Timely Acreage Reports Emphasized By ASCS Official

"The importance of accurate and timely acreage reporting is being emphasized for program crops this season," James R. Ford, Jr., Chairman, Appomattox County ASC Committee said.

He noted that acreage determinations affect many phases of ASCS farm programs. The ones affected are:

Disaster payments

Price support loans for certain crops

Marketing quotas

In this county marketing quotas are in effect for burley, fire-cured, flue-cured and sun-cured types of tobacco. To avoid program penalties, acreage reports must be filed for fire-cured and sun-cured tobacco by June 30, 1975.

Any wheat producer who wishes to prove his wheat yield for program purposes must file an acreage report.

To be eligible for a disaster payment under the feed grain and wheat programs, producers must file an acreage report of the affected acres while the evidence of the disaster is still apparent and before the acreage is put to other use.

Feed grain and/or wheat allotment holders should contact the ASCS office immediately in case of a disaster involving one of these commodities, to obtain full particulars of the disaster provisions.

Farms will be visited at random to check the accuracy of reports. Measurement service will be made available for any program the producers may request. Producers may contact the county ASCS office for more details.

AWARDS BANQUET HELD AT PATRICK HENRY BOYS PLANTATION

The fifth annual Awards Banquet was held at Patrick Henry Boys Plantation with a number of special guest present for the program. Among the guest were J. K. Andrews, president of the Plantation Board, Brookneal; Mrs. W. P. Williams, Plantation Board, Brookneal; Dr. and Mrs. Lee W. Shaffer, award sponsor and Board member, Roanoke; Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Anderson, Rustburg; Hon. and Mrs. Howard Anderson, Board member, Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Williams, Jr., Brookneal; Miss May Williams, Brookneal; and Mrs. Patricia Stratton and Miss Patricia Stratton of Madison Heights.

R. W. McCullough, Executive Director of the Boys Plantation, spoke to the boys on "Living a Full Life-One Day at a Time". Mrs. Lee Shaffer, of Roanoke, presented the top award, "The Shaffer Outstanding Citizenship Award", to Gregory M. Bucknam from Burkeville, Va. Mrs. Shaffer also presented the "Shaffer Academic Achievement Award" to Theodore Staton, of Lynchburg. Mr. McCullough then presented the "Pratt Room Award", in the absence of Mr. Frank Pratt, to Clarence Jackson, of Halifax. Mr. McCullough also presented the "Olney Outstanding Athlete Award", in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Olney, of McLean, Virginia, to Robert Sutton, of Staunton. Each of these awards included a plaque of permanent record, a trophy and a $25.00 Savings Bond.

In addition, Mr. McCullough presented the following intramural awards: In the English Cottage, the Chess Champion was Dale Palmer; Pool Champion was Kenny Moore; the Checker and Ping-Pong Champion was James Turner. In the Stephens Cottage the Chess Champion was Roger Fitzgerald; the Pool Champion was Gary Ruby; the Checker Champion was Bobby Fife and the Ping-Pong Champion was Charles Hutton.

The Patrick Henry Boys Plantation, which provides care for boys age 7 through high school, who need placement outside their natural home, implemented the awards program to foster incentives in these various areas of personal growth. It has been a most effective program and broadens the outlook of the boys at the Plantation.

The Plantation has been in operation as a private non-profit charitable home for 14 years and is operated by a Board of Directors made up of civic leaders from many areas of the state of Virginia. It has been funded and operated with free will contributions and continues to seek funding to put a recently completed new cottage into operation. Mr. McCullough indicates that approximately $85,000.00 for operating expenses annually would be required to put the much needed Plymale Cottage into operation. No target date has been set at this time for the opening of this cottage.

Uniroyal To Move R. I. Operations To Farmville

Uniroyal, Inc. has announced its decision to close its plant in Providence, R.I., phasing out operations between now and the end of 1975. The company's golf ball production in Providence will be transferred to Uniroyal's Farmville plant. Industrial products, including some printing materials, tank linings and custom mixing will be moved to other facilities, said A. C. Young, Manager, Golf Products, Consumer Division.

According to a company statement, approximately 500 Providence employees are affected by the closing. All eligible employees will receive termination or pension benefits, depending upon their length of service.

Uniroyal had announced a tentative decision to close the Providence facility, on April 2. Since that time, company management has explored alternatives with Union representatives and state, local and federal officials. A company spokesman said that no satisfactory solution could be reached, which would enable current operations in Providence to become competitive.

Among factors influencing Uniroyal's decision to transfer the Providence operation to Virginia were Virginia's proximity to major markets and the existence of the Farmville facility.

The Pastor Speaks

MAKING DECISIONS??

As graduation time is approaching for many and has already come for some, there are a lot of decisions being made or have been made concerning what the future holds. The most important decision needed to be made is that one concerning eternity. The Philippian jailor asked Paul and Silas in Acts 16:30, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Undoubtedly, the person who is lost and have not Christ should ask this question. Paul answered the jailor in simple words, "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house." Decision making involves several avenues of thoughts and questions. To be saved or born again the Bible tells us in Romans 10:9, "That if thou shalt confess with thou mouth the Lord Jesus and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." If you are not saved, why not make the eternal decision of asking Christ to save you. My friend, God loves you! He loved you so much that He sent His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. Let Jesus come into your heart today by praying the sinner's prayer of repentance asking Him to save you. Your heart is a door with the handle on the inside - only you can open it; yet, Christ stands on the outside knocking and waiting to come in.

Graduates, moms, dads, and children, make the most important decision you'll ever make today. John 3:7, "Marvel not that I say unto you, "Ye Must Be Born Again." As you make your decision, write to us and share it with us for we will be in much prayer for all who read this article.

May the Lord bless you in our prayer.

STRIP MINING BILL LIKELY TO INCREASE ELECTRICITY COSTS:

Signing at the annual meeting of the Virginia Farm and Home Electrification Council in Staunton, Louis R. Lawson, Jr., Director of the Virginia Energy Office said, "If the President signs into law the strip mining bill, the price of electricity very likely will be going up again in areas using coal for power generation." Lawson noted that some coal industry representatives have estimated this legislation may add as much as $2.50 to the price of a ton of coal. In some cases, this could result in residential electric bills increasing by almost 15 percent.

The Sunday School Lesson
Comments by Herbert C. Bradshaw
June 15, 1975

Topic: The Purpose of the Bible
Scripture: Jeremiah 26:1-6; Luke 24:13-27; 44-49; John 20:30-31; 1 John 1:1-4, 5:1.

These are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name. John 20:31.

When one asks, "What is the purpose of the Bible?," the answer is likely to be that it reveals God and His will to man. Such an answer accords with a frequently given definition of the Bible, that it the record of God's revelation of Himself. As students of last week's International Sunday School lesson learned, the Bible is a collection of books written by many writers under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Some writers state that they were instructed to write by specific direction from God.

To say that the Scriptures reveal God and His will does not go far enough in explaining their purpose. True, they do reveal God, but God has purpose in revealing Himself and this purpose is to reconcile men and women to Him. The writer of the Gospel of John was referring only to his own work when he wrote, "These are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name," but this explanation applies to the entire New Testament. This portion of the Bible concerns the revelation of God in Jesus Christ. God revealed Himself in Jesus Christ to save and redeem men and women.

The Old Testament is preparatory to the New. It is the record of God's preparation of the world for the Savior, even as it is the record of God's revelation of Himself in the "many and various ways God spoke of old to our fathers by the prophets," as the writer of the Letter to the Hebrews summarized the Old Testament. Then this writer summarized the New Testament by adding that "in these last days he has spoken to us by a Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world." The writer to the Hebrews continues that when the Son "had made purification for sins, he sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high . . ."

God has given mankind the Scriptures from the desire to show man the way to reconciliation with Him and eternal life for the individual. Jesus once observed that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. He might also have said that the Scriptures were written for man and for man's benefit. In order to show man how to be reconciled to Him, God has to reveal certain things about Himself, and His will and purpose. Since man is unable to discover God on his own, he can know God only as God chooses to make Himself known. While the Bible glorifies God and sets forth his requirement that people reverence and exalt Him, God does not need man's praise and honor. "God doth not need either man's works or his own gifts," John Milton wrote. God's action in revealing Himself to man is for man's salvation and is motivated by God's surpassing love for man.

The great theme running through the Bible is God's redemptive work in the world. God redeems, but the purpose of redemption does not end with its accomplishment. God expects a redeemed people to serve Him. The central feature in the history of Israel is God's deliverance of the people from slavery in Egypt. God delivered them from slavery, in order that they might be a witness to Him to the world and to prepare it for the coming of the Savior, who would deliver all mankind from slavery to sin and bring people into eternal life, even as God brought Israel into the Land of Promise following their deliverance from bondage.

Thus there is an intensely personal message for each individual in the Bible. It was written not only for mankind, but for each person. It is addressed not only to the human race but to each person in the human race. For this reason each individual may - and should - read what the Bible has to say to him personally, for his benefit, instruction, and blessing. The grand and high - sounding phrase of God's revelation of Himself takes on a personal application and becomes an integral element in personal living, even as God revealed Himself in human flesh in the person of Jesus Christ.
